Plans Afoot to Curtail Future Excursions by Harry (a Member of the Brook Family)

Harry's Brook, like some charmingly errant relative, delightful when he's sober, but a mad-man when he goes out on the town, belongs to the whole Princeton family.

Harry is thought of as a Township stream. But if you live in the Borough near Snowden or in Queenstown Common, you know the full force of his rage as well as your cousin on Meadowbrook Drive.

Because streams don't understand municipal boundaries, Princeton officials have decided that a kind of confluence of interests - if not an actual consolidation - calls for cooperation where Harry is concerned. And a third party, Mercer County, must be included because of county control over the culverts through which Harry flows.

Borough officials - Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Administrator Robert F. Mooney and new engineer George Olexa - have taken the first steps toward a Borough-Township-County meeting on flooding problems. The Borough would also like to include a representative from the Mercer County planner, Leo Laaksonen. It is expected that a date for this first meeting will be set in a few days.

Meanwhile, Borough engineer Olexa sat in Township Hall Monday evening, listening to Township officials and the Township's Flood Control Committee talk about Harry's Brook with Peter Homak, of Killam Associates. Mr. Homak directed the study that delineated the flood hazard areas along Harry's Brook.

Nobody expected Mr. Homak to be proved out quite so soon, but the two July floods showed the Killam maps to be, in the words of Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini, "remarkably accurate - right on target."

Shored up by data of such proven value, the Township feels confident about answering in a concrete way the crucial question: what to do?

Enlarge three culverts: Terhune at Randall, Braeburn at Meadowbrook chiefly and urgently, but also ask the county to do something about the one at Snowden between Overbrook and Van Dyke, where the road washed out.

The Borough, of course, is uneasy about another Snowden culvert, the one at Rollingmead that was apparently too small a funnel for the water that poured through and over and around on two occasions in July. The culvert is in the Township, the damage has been done to Borough (as well as Township) residents.

"The county is ready to consider re-designing that culvert," reports Donald T. Harney, Borough engineer about to become Mercer County engineer, "but they don't think there's any point unless Harry's Brook is re-aligned downstream in the Township. After that Snowden culvert, it goes around bends, and so on, deterring the flow. The county has said they'd like

Dinky (and Other Lines) Could Be Saved, If . . . You "Educate" Congress, Say Railroad Experts

The dinky has been spared until June, but long-range Congressional action is required to keep the Princeton-to-Princeton Junction shuttle from running out of steam altogether.

Martin Robins, lawyer for the New Jersey Department of Transportation, announced the Commuter Operating Agency's rescue of the Dinky at a late-afternoon meeting Tuesday in Borough Hall. The meeting was convened by Barbara Sigmund, Borough Council member, and Edwin Hutter, who is active in the "Save the Dinky" committee, to talk about saving not only the dinky, but other passenger lines as well.

The July 26 United States Railway Association plan concentrates on freight and fails to include passenger lines in its new Conrail system for the northeast corridor of which New Jersey is a part. ("New Jersey," incidentally, is lumped with the Philadelphia-New York metropolitan area in the report.)

Not only are passenger lines conspicuous by their absence: a recent Congressional resolution declared that the 70 percent Federal - 30 percent state subsidy formula applied only to freight lines.

"Only Lip-Service." "The report gives only lip-service to passenger lines, and contravenes the intent of the Railway Act," declared Elaine Kaiser, attorney with the Rail Services Planning Office of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who spoke to the Borough Hall meeting.

PRINCETON

Princeton's newest restaurateur is just 22 years old and can boast of only one entree on her menu. Judging from her first day of operation Tuesday, she is off to a terrific start.

"I'm the hot dog tycoon," Jessie Pieroth told customers as she slapped mustard, relish, onions, or sauerkraut, or various combinations thereof, on the specialty of the house. "Look what fun I'm having!"

Miss Pieroth, a Rutgers student, and her husband, Arthur Tassinello of Somerset, purchased their vending wagon for $1,700 about a month ago. Since then Mr. Tassinello has jostled with Borough officials over the permits necessary to operate the stand and Miss Pieroth has perfected her style of slapping the mustard, relish, etc. on the hot dogs.

By Tuesday they had secured the necessary papers, including a "satisfactory" rating from

She added that conversations with some members of Congress led her to believe that many Representatives hadn't realized their action on subsidies would have the effect of denying them to passenger lines.

"We need action to amend that resolution," she told the group, "and to make sure passenger service is specifically mentioned."

She also urged support for a bill providing a two-year moratorium on discontinuance of all the lines left out of Conrail, with the Federal government bearing all subsidy costs during this period. Included in the bill is a provision for accurate cost-accounting. She charged again, as many other critics have charged, that the U.S.R.A. has inaccurate information on the costs of running railroads.

"Many states do not yet have the procedures and machinery to act," she observed, "this would give a breathing space."

Subsidies Possible. During that two-year period, explained Ross Capon, of the National Association of Railroad Passengers, a sound subsidy program could be developed.

"We'd have to demonstrate we're not looking for a gravy train," he emphasized, "Federal funds wouldn't substitute for existing local money."

He told the gathering that, where a railroad line — like the dinky — has been excluded by the report, the Urban Mass Transportation Administration can provide all the funds for acquisition of the line. This means New Jersey could purchase lines without spending any money right now.

Mr. Capon had an encouraging note: the U.S.R.A. has said, he reported, that no service would be discontinued without "regulatory approval" — by the ICC or a similar body.

"This also gives us more breathing space," he commented. "The sword of Damocles is four feet down the line, not two inches."

Educate Congressman?
"We need a focus," asked Mr. Hutter.

"Educate your Congressman!" suggested Mrs. Kaiser, "tell them in Congress that we need legislation to protect passenger services."

"Congress needs to take a closer look at the problems," said Samuel Buffone, also a lawyer with ICC's Rail Services Planning Office, "solutions will come, if they have a deeper perception of the problem."

Before Mr. Robins said the dinky was safe for yet a while, Mr. Buffone asked how much New Jersey was willing to commit to help save passenger service. Would there be a bond issue?

"It is imperative for the citizen voice to be heard," he said, "and for a fairer share of rail funding to go to passengers."

He told the gathering of some 20 people, that he was forming a group — "a communications network" — of people concerned about the problem. He said he welcomes new members.

Township co-operation on a stream re-alignment, with a new design and a new culvert."

Incidentally, the county has the right of eminent domain if it decides on stream re-alignment, but in the interests of a happy family, it would prefer to have co-operation of both Township and Township residents. Mr. Harney adds that the Borough never knew that downstream work needed in the Township was the factor that kept the county from enlarging that Snowden culvert.

But "enlarging," culverts and "re-aligning" Harry's Brook are almost scare words in Princeton Township.

Committee member Elizabeth Hutter has warned that if you enlarge the Terhune and Braeburn culverts without simultaneous enlargement of downstream bottlenecks, you could have even more problems than now. Also, she is convinced that some current problems have arisen — or overflowed, so to speak — because Harry's Brook was re-aligned, enlarged and moved around.

Stream Resists Change. "I'm definitely against moving Harry's Brook somewhere else," says assistant Township engineer Thomas Tams. "A stream aligns itself. You try to change it, and it goes right back to where it was."

"Erosion is the big argument against enlarging three concerned parties — or 're-aligning' the stream," he explains. "The worry is, a storm might bring ten times the normal velocity of water; well, nobody wants to enlarge a stream to ten times its normal capacity."

"There could well be agreement on enlarging that Snowden culvert at Rollingmead," he says cautiously, "and if there's a jog in the brook, it should be straightened, and some places should probably be realigned."

It was Mrs. Hutter's suggestion that Killam data be fed into a computer to see what would happen downstream as enlargements and alterations were made. Not necessary, says Dwight O. North, of the Flood Control Committee, and Mr. Nini is inclined to agree.

Guard Against Erosion. "Killam has a lot of data," Mr. Nini points out, "enough so they know what will happen."

"We are not going to widen and deepen the channel if it will increase erosion," he says. "The Flood Control Committee was emphatic about that."

Mr. Olexa, from his seat in the Borough chair Monday night in Township Hall, says he found it "encouraging" that Killam studies didn't show downstream damage

24, but state inspectors didn't think the conditions had been met when they went back Monday.

Inspectors report dried food in open seams between steam tables, burnt residue on the outside of roasting trays, black residue on the door molding of the ice-cream freezer and dried food on the milk-shake mixer.

Surfaces that don't come into actual contact with food, were found inaccessible, in poor repair and hard to clean. Kitchenware was dirty. Manual washing and sanitizing procedures weren't satisfactory. Dried food was found on the food-contact surfaces of the steak-tenderizing machine. There was evidence of rodents, flies and roaches, the state said, and live flies were in the storage area and butcher shop.

Where It Goes. Harry's Brook itself flows under much of the Borough, starting from the pond under the library, and continuing underground to Harrison Street North at Queenston Common. It goes under Vandeventer, Moore, Chestnut, and Linden to that Harrison Street point. From there, it's in an open channel to Harriet Drive, then under Harriet until it emerges at Snowden.

The Borough-Township line is the west side of Snowden Lane. The so-called "Branch Number 2" of Harry's Brook that winds through Township meets the part that comes from the Borough somewhat north of Random Road. The confluence, perhaps symbolically for municipal cooperation, is almost exactly on Dwight North's property.

"It's very important for Borough, Township and county to meet," Mr. Tams says, "you get more ideas that way, on where, how and what to do."

TOPICSOf The Town*5TH FATALITY LISTED

On Township Roads. A 24-year-old Hillsborough man died early Sunday morning of massive head injuries suffered in a one-car accident on Route 206 near Cherry Hill Road in Princeton Township.

The traffic fatality was the fifth recorded in the Township this year. "This has been the worst year I can remember since joining the force," said Lt. Michael G. Lisi, who has been with the Township police department for more than 19 years. All of the victims have been from out of town.

Police believe that alcohol may have contributed to the cause of this accident. The victim, John Brannon, was riding in the front seat of a 1964 Pontiac Tempest being driven by Glenn Flood, 20, of Watchung. As the Tempest headed south on Route 206, at about 2:54 a.m., it suddenly veered off the roadway to the right and struck a utility pole located about 200 feet north of Cherry Hill Road.

A motorist following the car continued south to Township Hall and reported the accident to police, who in turn notified the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. Sgt. Robert Heacock and Ptl. Morton were on the scene within 30 seconds and the Rescue Squad arrived within three minutes.

Mr. Brannon was found halfway out of the car and was taken to Princeton Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Three passengers riding in the backseat were also taken to the hospital.

No Seat Belts. Bruce Flood, 21, brother of the driver, and Nancy Whelan, 17, both were admitted with severe lacerations. They were listed in satisfactory condition. Robert O'Neill, 22, of Cumberland, R.I., was treated and

If you want to take your lunch, there are inviting benches. If you'd like to stroll the courtyard in the evening, there are lights, and the pool itself is illuminated. (But no wading! The pool wiring could mean electrocution.)

released. The car was not equipped with seat belts.

Glenn Flood was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, reckless driving, and causing death by an automobile. Police refrained from administering a breath test so that doctors could treat Mr. Flood for a cut lip. He was released from the hospital and then remanded to Mercer County Jail, where bail was set at $10,000.

He is scheduled to appear at a probable cause hearing in Township Court on September 17.

Lt. Lisi expressed frustration at the rash of fatal accidents that have occurred comparable period in 1974. The total number of accidents rose only by two, from 175 in the first six months last year to 177 this year.

"We feel pretty good about that since last year was a low year for accidents because of the gas shortages," said Lt. Lisi. What the lieutenant and other Township officials do not feel good about are the five fatalities with the better part of a half year still to go.

SUMMER PACKAGE

For Township Committee. A package of ordinances dealing with zoning and planning will be introduced when Township Committee meets Monday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

In one measure, Committee will extend the period of time allowed between the granting of a zoning variance and application for a building permit. At present, a builder has six months to act between the two. The new amendment will extend that time to one year.

Another ordinance will require that notice of a Zoning Board hearing on a variance be given to the Planning Board at least 20 days before the hearing.

At Planning Board request, Committee will propose that if there is parking outside a prescribed parking area but within a setback, the problem be removed from zoning consideration and related to other parts of the Township code.

Committee will also amend the sub-division ordinance to require approval by the county engineer on any culverts before a plat is approved. At the other end of the line, a performance bond for a culvert won't be cancelled unless the county engineer says the job has been done properly.

Public hearing will be held on the site plan amendment that absolves prior applicants from requirements of the new ordinance, and on incorporation of the Killam Harry's Brook study into the Township's flood plain ordinance.

Be Sure To Hear The Advents.

Before you buy your first or your next pair of loudspeakers, we recommend that you hear the Advents.

Both the original Advent Loudspeaker and The Smaller Advent Loudspeaker make the top level of loudspeaker performance available for less than half the previous going cost. Either of them will take head-to-head competition with absolutely any speaker system of any price, size, or vintage, and both of them sound obviously and dramatically better than many far more expensive systems.

If you know someone who owns a pair of Advents or Smaller Advents, you can easily move to check out those claims — listening both to the speakers and to what their owner has to say about them. Many Advent owners bought their speakers only after extensive comparisons, re-comparisons, and early disbelief that they were hearing what they were hearing. The same owners have become by far the most effective advertisers for Advent speakers, helping to make the original Advent a best-seller before it was advertised nationally.

If you don't have a friend who owns Advents, we invite you to come in to hear them in our showroom. Our demonstration facilities allow you to fairly compare either of the Advent speakers, with each other and with speakers from other manufacturers. If you prefer we will not identify the speakers during the comparison so you will get as unbiased a test as is possible. We won't rush you, you can come in as often as you want, listen as long as you like, and use as wide a variety of program material as is helpful to you.

Nothing about either speaker is accidental. They are the result of eighteen years' previous experience in making high-performance acoustic-suspension speakers, and their low cost is the result of what the people at Advent have learned about taking the most simple, direct route to highest performance.

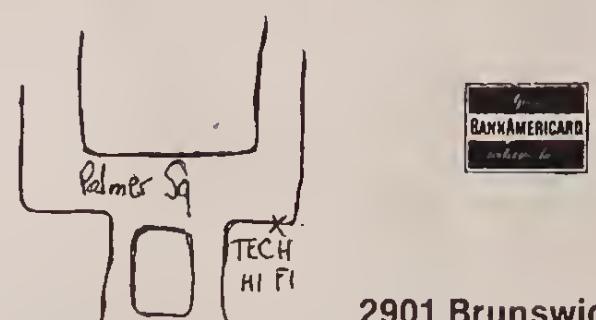

Both Advents have identically wide frequency bandwidth, with bass response approached by few speakers of any price or size, and with high-frequency response and dispersion of the highest order. Both have the same clarity and accuracy, and an octave-to-octave musical balance chosen to sound convincing not only on the best recordings but on the great majority of recordings of all kinds.

The only basic difference in performance between the two is that the original Advent ($132 or $114 depending on cabinet finish) will play slightly louder in bigger rooms than The Smaller ($70). Either is an outstanding value by any standard, and The Smaller may be the most spectacular bargain available in stereo components.

We have on display complete music systems which feature The Advent Loudspeaker and The Smaller Advent Loudspeaker. These systems were pre-selected by us, after careful evaluation, to offer the best possible reliability, compatibility, and a level of sound quality which you will find as satisfying next year as when you first take your system home.

YMCA to Review Safety Camping Policy

Following the incident in which two and possibly three boys were struck by lightning on a YMCA wilderness canoe trip last month, the Y board of directors plans to appoint a committee to review emergency contingency procedures for all YMCA activities.

Y President William Dettmar said the action was not meant to criticize the way in which the two adult counselors handled the incident. All of us are gratified that there were no fatalities and no after-effects," he said. Criticism had been voiced last week by several persons who thought the counselors should have sought immediate medical attention, even though the boys appeared to have fully recovered within several hours of the incident.

The committee, which Mr. Dettmar said would include some Y directors, staffers and community members, perhaps even a parent of one of the boys struck by lightning, will be announced at the next regular meeting of the board, September 24.

'76 THRONG EXPECTED
In Hopewell Township, Anticipating that the state's development of Washington Crossing State Park for special Bicentennial events will result in a financial burden for Hopewell Township, officials there are considering ways of passing those costs on to the state.

The subject was raised Monday at a work session of the Hopewell Township Committee, which estimated that the increased costs of traffic control and sanitation as a result of activities at the park might run from $750,000 to $1 million. Committeeman Christopher Bannister recommended that a group of residents, headed by a salaried, fulltime coordinator, be formed to develop plans for coping with Bicentennial-related problems.

Other suggestions made at the work session were that the Township sue the state in advance of the damages, or that the Township seek a court injunction to prevent the state from developing the park.

GAS POISONS TWO
Both Critical. A Hopewell Township doctor and his mother-in-law were found unconscious Monday night in the doctor's home, both apparently victims of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Dr. Walter G. Sawchak, 52, of Forrest Edge Drive, Hopewell, and Mrs. Clara Porcuz, 78, were rushed to the intensive care unit of Mercer Medical Center, where they were both listed in critical condition.

Police said they did not know what caused the poisoning, but they were investigating.

ROBBER SOUGHT
In West Windsor. A 15-year-old boy told police that he was robbed at gunpoint Sunday evening at about 6:30 as he was walking across the grounds of the West Windsor-Plainsboro High School.

Police said the man ordered the boy to empty his pockets and run away. The man was described as being in his early

VW OVERTURNED

In Owner's Driveway. Have you seen those car wax commercials on television in which former football player Alex Karas turns a car over on its side to give the viewers a better look at its lustrous shine?

Well, Fred Bauer, of 6 Littlebrook Road, woke up last Friday morning and saw his 1972 Volkswagen in exactly that position. Some energetic pranksters apparently turned the car over on its right side between 12:15 and 7:15 that morning.

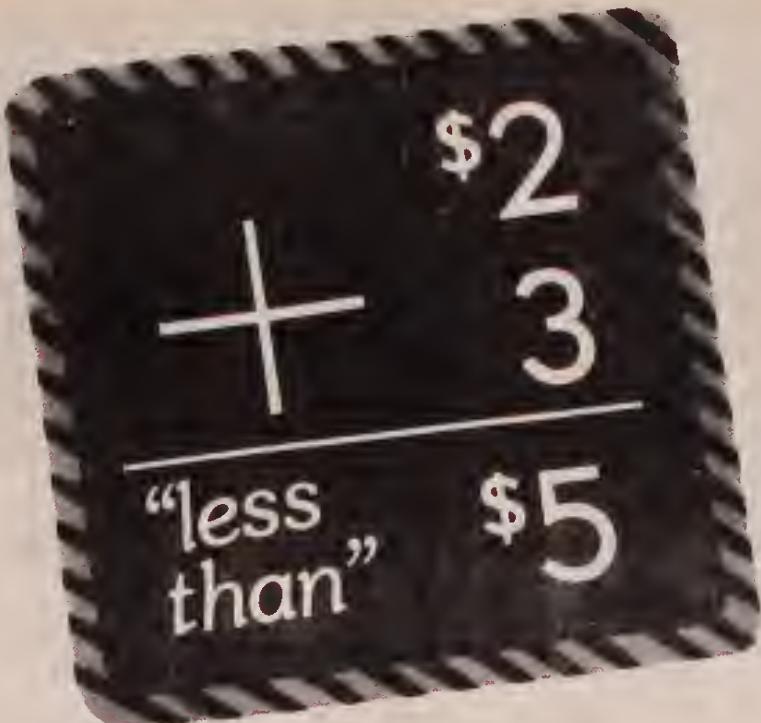

Township patrolmen Robert Nielsen and David Funk helped turn the car back on its wheels and investigated.

DOCTORS' OFFICE HIT

By Burglars. The professional offices of doctors LeRoy Hunninghake and William Haynes were entered over the weekend of August 2 and 3. The thief took $110 in cash from a desk drawer. The office is located in the Medical Arts Building of the Medical Center.

Correction

Last week TOWN TOPICS reported that John Duncan, 27, of Plainsboro, had been arrested by Borough police and charged with several misdeeds, including passing a forged check. In fact, Mr. Duncan was not charged with passing a forged check. He was accused of issuing a worthless check. TOWN TOPICS regrets the error.

Princetonian Serving in Peace Corps in Korea Finds Numerous Rewards Outweigh Frustrations

At a downtown youth center here in Seoul, South Korea, not long ago, an audience of several hundred college-age Korean men and women gathered at a benefit show to raise money for a local cause. On the program was the performance of nine traditional Korean folk songs, played on the kayagum, a 12-stringed Oriental instrument.

An attractive young woman played the songs and then bowed respectfully to the applause of her audience. This wouldn't be particularly unusual, considering the place, except that the musician was Sherri McCullough, 25, of Princeton, N.J.

In the three years she has been in Korea as a Peace Corps volunteer, Miss McCullough has not only learned to play the kayagum, but has studied calligraphy and become quite accomplished in the difficult Korean language.

"I've always wanted to learn more of the culture of Korea," Miss McCullough says. At the present time, her Peace Corps assignment involves working for the American Korean Foundation, a social service organization. There she teaches English and serves as a part-time vocational and personal counselor to a group of mixed-race teenaged orphans.

Lives on Boudinot Street. Miss McCullough is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. McCullough of 30 Boudinot Street. She attended Hopewell Valley High School in Pennington and graduated from Swarthmore College with a bachelor's degree in history in June, 1972. After traveling in Europe and working for a Japanese trading company in New York as a secretary, Miss

WITH PEACE CORPS IN KOREA: Sherri McCullough of Princeton, a third-year Peace Corps volunteer in Korea, admires a hand-woven Korean baskal at a home in Seoul. Miss McCullough Serves as an English teacher and counselor at the American Korean Foundation, a social service organization.

McCullough joined the Peace Corps in December of that year.

Like all new volunteers, she first underwent three months of intensive Peace Corps training in the Korean language and culture and in English teaching techniques. Then she was assigned to a girls' middle school—similar to a junior high school—in Jeonju, a town in Jeollabuk province.

There, working with a Korean co-teacher, Miss McCullough taught five classes of 70 girls each, as well as two special classes made up of the students most interested in English. Finally, she conducted a weekly English workshop for 20 Korean teachers of English from other schools in the town.

Miss McCullough lived with a local family, and as she became proficient in speaking Korean she made a number of other close friends. "I've gotten to know much about Korea and Korean life from my family and friends and perhaps they have learned something about America and American life from me," she says.

Enlists for Third Year. After completing the normal two-year tour as a Peace Corps volunteer, Miss McCullough asked to stay on in Korea for another year of service. Since then, she has been working with the American Korean Foundation.

When she completes this extended tour, Miss McCullough may pursue her interest in Korea through graduate work at the University of Washington in Seattle, where she expects to enter the Korean studies program.

"I don't see how one could spend two years or more in this country without it having a long-term impact on your life," she says. She is unsure of the exact direction her career will take after graduate studies, but it will, she hopes, involve teaching and writing about Asia or perhaps Foreign Service work.

"There are often times when you experience frustration in doing your job here, or when you encounter unfriendliness, even hostility," she says. "There are dirt and smells, too; yet they don't bother me anymore. The good experiences outweigh the bad."

Miss McCullough is one of about 200 Peace Corps volunteers serving in Korea. Around the world, about 7,300 Americans are serving as Peace Corps volunteers and trainees in 68 developing nations.

BICENTENNIAL PAINTING FOR HISTORICAL SOCIETY: Historical Society president Walter F. Fullam (right) accepts the cover on the historical fact book entitled "Princeton, New Jersey, America's 1976 Bicentennial". Created by Princeton artist Cheries McVicker, the painting is titled "Motivators of the American Dream" and recalls the meetings of colonial leaders in Princeton during the Revolutionary era. The informational guide book contains historical notes and current data about the 17 communities that comprise the Princeton area. Books are $1 at many stores and may be obtained by mail for $1.75 from Lenhart Publishing Company, P.O. Box 472, Princeton. The McVicker painting is on display at Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau Street.

riding a bicycle on Snowden Lane near Braeburn Drive.

The incident occurred at 9:50 a.m. on August 5. The car driven by the subject was described as a late '60s model, chartreuse body with a white top. Township Patrolman Mario Musso is investigating.

DETOUR AHEAD

On Great Road. The Mercer County Bridge Commission is scheduled to rebuild a culvert on the Great Road near the intersection of Cherry Valley Road.

The job will begin this Monday and take about two weeks. The Great Road will be closed at that point and traffic diverted on Heather Lane and then to Cherry Valley Road.

CRUELTY CHARGED

Man Fined $160. Edward S. Dugger of Princeton was fined $160 in Township Court last week after being found guilty of a charge of cruelty to animals. The complaint against Mr. Dugger was filed by Ellen Gepner and heard by Judge Philip Carehman. The defendant pleaded innocent.

In other Township Court proceedings, Felice Nini, 20, of 27 Pine Street, was fined $31 for driving 36 in a 15 mile per hour zone. Gail E. Duval, 23, of 8 Amwell Road, Hopewell, was fined $30 for speeding.

MARKEDED CARS ENTERED
Recorders Stolen. A Vandevanter Avenue resident reported last Friday the theft of a tape recorder from his car, which was parked in his driveway. The recorder was a Sony cassette, model TC-120.

Between 9 and 11:30 that night a car parked in the Westminster Choir College parking lot was entered. A tape recorder and two speakers valued at $250 were stolen. The thief also made off with the car's antenna and, in a curious display of apparent generosity, only one of the car's four hub caps.

DICKINSON ST. TARGET
Of Burglars. A Dickinson Street resident reported on August 6 that someone entered her home between 12:30 and 8:15 that morning and stole her pocketbook, containing a wallet with $2 in cash, a dividend check, a check book from First National Bank, and a savings book from Nassau Savings and Loan. The pocketbook was valued at $45. Police said the burglar gained entrance by cutting a key on a door leading to the kitchen. The wallet was found later on the University campus near Murray-Dodge Hall.

Five days later another Dickinson Street resident reported that two 10-speed bicycles, one boy's and one girl's, had been stolen from his front porch. The bicycles were made by Peugeot and were valued at $150 apiece.

IVY CLUB ENTERED

Through Scaffolding. A thief apparently climbed a building scaffold on the night of August 6 and made his way into the Ivy Club at 43 Prospect Avenue through a second story window.

Once inside the burglar helped himself to an AM-FM radio and two speakers valued at $500. Patrolman Peter Hanley investigated. Detective Charles Harris dusted for fingerprints.

Rings, Wallet Stolen. A nurse living at the Princeton Medical Center's Lambert House reported three rings stolen from her room on August 9. The value of the rings was placed at $130.

Several hours later the nurse reported her wallet stolen. It had contained $34 in cash. Her room had been left unlocked.

20-YEAR-OLD CHARGED

With Assault. James Britt, 20, of Springdale Road, was charged with assault and battery, interference, and creating a disturbance following an incident on the evening of August 6 at a Mercer Street residence. He is scheduled to appear in court September 3.

Police responded to a call from the occupant who said that a young man had entered the rear door of the home, assaulted the occupant, was forcibly removed from the premises, but then re-entered. Police said the man appeared to be under the influence of an intoxicating beverage.

WALLET THIEVES BUSY
On University Campus. Thieves made off with three wallets from the locker room of Dillon Gymnasium and another one from the B floor of Firestone Library in four separate incidents.

On August 6 a Princeton resident discovered that his wallet, containing $19 in cash plus personal papers and identification, had been stolen. Two days later a Firestone Library employee reported her wallet taken from her purse. She lost $5 in cash plus a University Store card.

Also on that day a wallet containing $18 in cash and a check for $20 was stolen from Dillon. The victim was a University employee. At about the same time a Princeton resident using the gym noticed that his wallet also was missing. It had contained $50 plus several blank checks and credit cards.

All of the thefts occurred in the afternoon.

Hopewell Valley Central High School, for the role of Maria. Others in the cast will be Ken Alcorn, Rich Hutchinson, Jim Zombeck, Nancy Anderson and Bob Watson.

Jerry Custer, a Westminster Choir College graduate, will conduct. Ron Brockway has designed the sets and Paul Falloona the lighting.

JOHANN STRAUSS

At Open Air Theatre. A merry tale that bubbles to the most entrancing music of Johann Strauss will enliven the Open Air Theatre next week-end. It's "Die Fledermaus," in the Princeton Opera Association English-language production under the musical direction of Igor Chichagov.

"Die Fledermaus" will be presented next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 21, 22 and 23, and again August 28, 29 and 30, all at 8:30 in the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park.

In this comic opera, a husband gets into trouble by flirting at a masquerade ball with a masked beauty who turns out to be his own wife. Rosalinda, the wife, will be sung by Mary Kemp and Pamela Boodley, sharing the role. Mrs. Kemp has sung frequently with the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs, and appeared in "The Pirates of Penzance" for the Gilbert & Sullivan Association. Ms. Boodley, a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music, recently sang a program of contemporary music at the Trenton State Museum and will appear next spring with the Trenton Symphony.

Baron von Eisenstein will be sung by Albert W. Jansson, who has sung before with the Princeton Opera Association. He is a performing member of the Princeton Music Club, and soloist with the Musical Amateurs.

Alfred will be Bruce Turner, whose credits include solo work in the Mozart Coronation

SHE SINGS STRAUSS:
The role of Sally in Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" will be sung by Peggy Bayer, of Princeton. She is a graduate of the New York University Drama School with a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree.

Mass, performed in Italy. Adele, the maid, is another role that will be shared between two singers. Deborah Gardner and Annette Sims are both familiar with operatic roles. Ms. Gardner has sung in "Rigoletto," "La Boheme," "Carmen" and "The Merry Widow," and has performed at McCarter and at the Garden State Arts Center. Ms. Sims, a graduate of New England Conservatory Studies, has sung in "Don Giovanni," "Così fan Tutti," and "Don Pasquale." She is children's choir director at the Princeton Methodist Church.

Cheryl Chang, who has sung frequently with the Opera Association, will be Prince Orlofsky. Peggy Bayer, who will play the part of Sally, has sung in G. & S. productions and in Summer Intime's Midnight Cabaret. She was a senior member of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company.

Michael Grinnals and Herman Smith will share the role of Dr. Blind. Mr. Grinnals teaches music at Voorhees High School in Clinton, and Mr. Smith has sung in several musical comedy productions.

Warren Raymond, Tony Parisi, Charles Goings, William Fassbender, and Dominic Latini will also perform in this production. Mr. Raymond was in the Association's "Merry Widow;" Mr. Goings is a senior at Westminster Choir College; Mrs. Fassbender is a member of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. Inc.; Mr. Latini is also a member of that group, and was a singer in the Association's "Merry Widow" and "Carmen."

Edward Earle is stage director for this production, Patricia Harding is producer and Frank Schley and Douglas Robertson are assistants. Charlene Stark is the stage manager, and Maria Krawarik the costume designer.

SEEN A DRAGON?

Play Repeats. Two more performances of "If You've Seen One Dragon..." will be given in the play's summer series of performances for children.

The Creative Theatre Unlimited Children's Theatre Troupe will give the play this Thursday and Saturday at Trinity Church, 33 Mercer. Curtain-time is 10:30 a.m. each day.

In the cast are Tiffany Bogart, Rich Hutchinson, Aletz Moss, Cindy Gallant, Fran Butterfield, Penny Smith, Larry Ellis and Adrienne Brockway.

PLAYHOUSE

Love and Death: After last waking up in the absurd future of "Sleeper" Woody Allen in "Love and Death" goes back to 19th Century Russia and uses every known comic device to turn hallowed Russian novels into non-stop hilarity.

A single viewing will probably make it impossible to ever again read Tolstoy or Dostoyevsky with a straight face. Allen, the actor, is the best he's ever been as the bespectacled Boris, a self-confessed coward, who pressed into joining the Russian troops against Napoleon, not only survives, but emerges as an unwitting hero.

He eventually marries his previously unattainable cousin, Sonja, and the two of them embark to assassinate the diminutive French emperor. The rest is hysteria.

Allen, the writer and director, has become less reliant on isolated gags and skits. In this film, he puts his usual abundance of verbal humor, insane sight gags, sly slapstick and glaring anachronisms into a framework rich in both theme and characterization. Even his traditional nebbish character has gained stature, emerging more as a thinking man's bumbler.

In addition to countless set pieces—a "hygiene play" before the regiment of randy soldiers goes on furlough or Napoleon berating his bakers for coming up with a sickly little pastry destined to bear his name—there are wonderful little mystic interludes scattered throughout the film.

In one, a dead soldier comes back to life so Allen can get back the deposit on an engagement ring he'll never use. "Get a receipt for tax purposes," the dead friend insists.

Filmed in France and Budapest, the film has been produced on a lavish scale with major battle scenes, Slavic villages and actual palaces that add mightily to the net effect. Diane Keaton, who was with Allen in "Sleeper" again co-stars.

ERIC

Rollerball. The film Rollerball has an exciting premise. In its world of the future, governments have fallen and the corporations taken over. Everything is controlled by the corporate mentality. Its greatest triumph of planning is the creation of a game called Rollerball, a violent sport intended to eliminate war by allowing men—and nations—to express their aggressive instincts on the playing field instead of the battle field.

At the very least, the premise might have been expected to serve as a basis for Orwellian satire. But the film is totally humorless. Director Norman Jewison has approached the material with hushed, portentous reverence and proceeds to treat the banal dialogue as if they were momentous philosophical statements.

The film comes to life only in the three Rollerball sequences. The game is a wild variation of roller derby played with spiked gloves and a steel basketball. Also mixed in are elements of ice hockey, motorcycle racing and football. The action is skillfully staged and literally pulls one off the edge of one's seat.

The Rollerball sequences alone almost make the movie worth seeing. But it is a heavy price to pay.

YOUTH CONCERTS SET

By N.J. Symphony. Mrs. Gavin Hildick-Smith, 55 Westcott Road, president of the newly-formed Princeton chapter of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League, has announced that several children's concerts will be presented in the Princeton area this fall, thanks to the support of financial institutions here.

Two concerts will be presented on October 30 at Princeton Day School for the benefit of more than 1,000 public and private school children between the first and third grades. They have been made possible through various donations to the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra from the First National Bank of Princeton, Princeton Bank and Trust Company and the Nassau Savings and Loan Association. Additional funds have been given to the Symphony by the New Jersey National Bank of Princeton.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Giggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15 cents.

OFFICE MANAGER NAMED
By Weidel Real Estate. Jane Beene has been promoted to the position of manager of the Weidel Real Estate office, 242 1/2 Nassau Street.

Richard Weidel, President of Weidel Real Estate, Inc., in making the announcement, commented on the excellent record Ms. Beene established as a sales associate in Weidel's East Windsor office since she joined the firm two years ago. She was previously employed in the real estate department of Twin Rivers, East Windsor.

Ms. Beene, her husband and three children are originally from Texas. They have been living in the greater Princeton area since 1970. Mr. Beene is employed as National Training Director with the American District Telegraph Company in New York City.

FINANCING SET

For Housing Development. Financing has been arranged by the David Cronheim Company of Newark and Chatham, for Country Village, a 58-unit colony of homes on Princeton and Plainsboro Roads in Plainsboro. Charles J. Dodge, manager of the Cronheim Company's mortgage department, reports that both permanent and construction financing has been provided for the developers, Pilshaw-Goldstein, Inc.

The homes will be offered in colonial, bi-level and ranch styles, with prices ranging from $45,000 to $58,000. The homes will be individually oriented on the 37-acre tract, which adjoins the Walker-Gordon farm. Construction is scheduled to start by the end of the month, with the first models open to the public by early winter.

Buyers will be offered a choice of optional extras, including fireplaces in the living rooms or recreation rooms, and homes will be built under the new standards to assure maximum savings on heating and cooling costs. Under the Cronheim Company commitment, buyers will be offered generous financing with conventional mortgages, terms of which will run up to 30 years.

NEW SATELLITE DUE
From RCA. RCA has begun the initial phase here in the development of TIROS-N, a third generation operational weather satellite, under a $16.6 million NASA contract.

TIROS-N will provide data for global meteorological forecasting, oceanographic and hydrological services, and space environmental monitoring, according to Abraham Schnapf, Manager of Program Management, RCA Astro-Electronics Division.

The first satellite in the new generation of polar-orbiting spacecraft is scheduled for launch in 1978, Mr. Schnapf said. The fixed-price contract was awarded to RCA by NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md.

Under the contract, RCA will purchase components and subsystems that take a year or more to acquire. These include such items as inertial measuring units, earth sensor assemblies, receivers and demodulators, along with long lead solid state components.

TIROS-N will carry a variety of sophisticated new sensors to obtain high quality atmospheric temperature and water vapor soundings, day and night worldwide cloud cover pictures, a radiometric information of sea surface temperature mapping. It will also have the capability for remote data collection from balloons and ocean buoys.

The advanced satellite will be the latest series in the TIROS family that dates back to 1960. Over the span of years, 24 satellites have been successfully launched to observe the world's weather from space orbit.

The satellites have taken more than 2.5 million weather pictures and logged more than 7.5 billion miles in space.

Since 1966, when the weather watchers first became operational, no major storm anywhere in the world has gone undetected by these satellites, according to Mr. Schnapf.

To buy or not to buy, that is the question.

Because substance and quality are absolutely essential in this questionable economy, buying an Audi® 100LS makes more sense today than ever before.

You'll be buying the roominess and comfort of a full-sized car: legroom and headroom usually associated with cars twice the price; orthopedically-designed seats that adjust to your body, that reduce fatigue.

You'll be buying German engineering: the control of front-wheel drive and independent suspension; the raciness of rack-and-pinion steering; the extra security of negative steering-roll radius and outboard-vented front disc brakes.

You'll be buying the added economy of fuel injection: 18 miles per gallon* in the city and a startling 28 miles per gallon* on the highway.

It's an elegant, finely-engineered medium-priced luxury car that is built to last. That's substance and quality in any economy, no question about it.

3 COMPLAINTS ISSUED

At 184 Witherspoon. Police were called to 184 Witherspoon Street near midnight on August 7 by Darrell Brooks, 20, who signed a complaint of assault against John Duncan, 27, of Fox Run Drive, Plainsboro. David Jackson, of 21 Birch Avenue, also signed an assault complaint against Mr. Duncan.

At the same time, Mr. Duncan signed an assault complaint against Mr. Brooks. Authorities hope to resolve the matter September 17, when all are due to appear in Borough Court.

Women Arrested. Ellen B. Waitt, 20, of Green Street, and Mary Hegarty, 18, of Princeton Junction were arrested August 8 after Sgt. Ralph Proaccino observed them fighting on Nassau Street near Witherspoon Street.

They are scheduled to appear in court August 20.

Court Results. In Borough Court proceedings this week, the following Princeton area residents appeared:

Linda Evensen, 1101 Deer Creek, Plainsboro, overdue inspection, fined $10; Richard McGrath, 21, 89 Dempsey Avenue, speeding, $16; Donna L. Harris, 26, the Hun School, speeding, $35; Ben Reeve, 21, 34 Cleveland Lane, improper parking, $20; Elise R. Abrams, 44 Armour Road, stop sign violation, $15.

Also Sandra M. Higgins, 33, 233 Varsity Avenue, careless driving, $25; Peter S. Anderson, 20, 6 Monterey Drive, Princeton Junction, driving while ability is impaired by alcohol, $60 fine and revocation of license for six months; and Keith N. Page, 18, Old Road, stop light violation, $15.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

For Public TV Auction. Volunteers from Princeton are being sought to assist with the first state-wide auction to benefit New Jersey's four-channel public television network. The auction will be conducted over Channel 52 and in mid-December.

On-air auctions are a principal method of fund-raising for most of the nation's 250 non-commercial TV stations and the New Jersey network hopes the December event will become an annual one.

All kinds of volunteer help is needed, "including gift solicitors, regional and county chairmen as well as people to answer telephones on the days of the auction itself." The volunteers are needed to augment the services of The

Saturday, August 30, preceded by a special study session at 10 p.m. That will deal with the theme of Repentance as reflected in the writings of Moses Maimonides, Medieval Jewish philosopher and expositor of Judaism.

Services for Rosh
Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, will take place on Friday evening, September 5, at 8 p.m.; Saturday, September 6 at 8:30 a.m.; and Sunday, September 7, at 8:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. On Rosh Hashanah, every Jew is called upon to examine his conscience and make spiritual preparation for the coming year.

Shabbat Shuvah services will be held on Friday September 12, at 8:15 p.m. and on Saturday, September 13, at 10 a.m. "Shuvah" is the Hebrew word for "repentance" or
"turning" to God.

Kol Nidre services at 6:45
p.m. on Sunday, September 14, will begin the Day of Atonement. Yom Kippur morning services will begin at 8:30 p.m. on Monday, September 15.

Special children's services, supplementing those listed above, will be held in the Bet-Am from 10:30 to noon on Saturday, September 6; Sunday, September 7, and Monday, September 15.

Because limitations of space are severe, admission to services will be by ticket.
Tickets are being sent to all members of The Jewish Center. Non-members who wish to attend may telephone 924-5493.

FUNDS ARE SENT
More Sought for Vietnamese. Checks totalling over $500 have already been received for the "Refugee Relocation" project of the Princeton Interfaith Council.
These checks were in response to appeals in TOWN TOPICS and elsewhere about the need for funds.

Funds are still urgently needed, because a second Vietnamese family of four is expected from Indian Town Gap, Pa., at any time. Area residents who would like to assist are asked to make their checks to the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, marked Refugee Relocation."

They may be sent to the church at Nassau and Cedar Lane. Messiah is acting as a collecting agent for this cause.
All gifts will be promptly acknowledged.

FESTIVAL SLATED
At Griggstown Church. The annual Harvest Home
Festival of the Griggstown
Reformed Church, Canal Road, Griggstown, will be held on August 16, 5 to 10 p.m., rain or shine, on the church grounds. There will be an old fashioned hayride and games in which everyone wins something.

Good country cooking is a specialty, and buttered corn, sausage sandwiches, fruit ortcake a-la-mode and homemade apple pie and ice cream are the offerings. For browsing and shopping, there are white elephants, fancy bands and a harvest table.
Mrs. Margaret W. Taylor is in charge.

FURNISHINGS SOUGHT

For Lutheran Sponsored Vietnamese. The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Princeton Junction working with St. Paul's Lutheran Church in East Windsor will be sponsoring a Vietnamese family within the next month.
Since this family will be arriving with almost nothing besides the clothes they are wearing the churches will be donating many items to them so that they can begin a normal household again.

Mrs. Joy Greene, 799-2688, and Mrs. Tenna Cahill, 799-2442, co-chairman of the committee, are seeking such things as: dishes, tableware, glasses, pots, bowls, knives,
tongs, canisters, tables,
chairs, lamps, a couch, end tables, beds, dressers, linens, blankets, bedspreads, towels,
clocks, etc. Please call Mrs.
Cahill or Mrs. Greene for donations and Rev. Frederick Schott, pastor, 799-1753 for questions.

BULLETINS

The Rachael Conover
Missionary Society of Mt.
Pisgah A.M.E. Church will sponsor a Block Party on Friday, August 22, on MacLean Street next to the Mt. Pisgah Church from 8 p.m. to midnight. Hot dogs, hamburgers, soda, and watermelon will be available.
Everyone is invited.

For further information,
contact Mrs. Charlotte Gipson at 924-1507.

Friends of New Jersey Public Broadcasting who provide personnel for network projects.

While any amount of time an individual can volunteer—either in their home areas or at the Trenton studios—will be welcome, retired, semi-retired or unemployed persons with large amounts of time to spare are especially needed. Those wishing to participate should contact Mark London, Chief of Development, NJPB, 1573
Parkside Avenue, Trenton,

during business hours at (800)

DEFOLIATION DOUBLED

In Gypsy Moth Damage. A recently completed statewide aerial survey has shown many forested areas of central and south Jersey are suffering from severe gypsy moth defoliation, according to John D. Kegg, entomologist,
Division of Plant Industry,
New Jersey Department of Agriculture. Forested acres attacked by the leaf-feeding caterpillars nearly doubled in size from 28,102 acres in 1974 to 55,430 acres this summer.

Aerial surveys to determine the size and location of gypsy moth defoliated woodlands have been conducted since 1967. According to Mr. Kegg,
"This survey is the first step taken by the department to alert municipalities of the status of the gypsy moth problem within their boundaries and is followed up this fall by an egg mass inspection to determine the proposed treatment areas for next season."

This year, severe defoliation damage (61 to 100 percent) occurred on 48,870 acres, moderate to heavy damage (31 to 60 percent) occurred on 6,165 acres and light (less than 30 percent) occurred on 405 acres.

At present, the female moth, which is about 1½ inches long,
stout bodied, and with white wings crossed with dark lines, has nearly completed egg laying. The buff colored, velvety-like egg mass is about 1 inch long and ½ inch wide and may be found attached to trees, rocks or on shaded objects. A single egg mass may contain as many as 1,200 eggs, which will hatch next April.

This year's survey showed defoliating populations of the gypsy moth occurring in Princeton Township, East and West Windsor and Hopewell for a total of 365 acres defoliated in Mercer County.

Middlesex County had a total of 10,705 acres defoliated, and among the areas hit were Cranbury, Plainsboro and South Brunswick. In Somerset County, with 2,170 acres
defoliated, Franklin, Hillsborough, Montgomery and Rocky Hill suffered damage.

VOLUNTEERS BUSY

At Hospital and Merwick.
Fifty-four young men and women from the Princeton area are providing volunteer help in the Princeton Hospital and Merwick Extended Care and Rehabilitation Units of

The Medical Center. In addition to filling positions for vacationing regulars, the Junior Volunteers are adding their energy and enthusiasm to many Merwick programs where additional participation has been a constant need.

"The young people are always welcomed by nursing home and rehabilitation patients at Merwick," said
Mrs. Deborah Livingston,
Director of Volunteer Services. "Their arrival is one of the highlights of the summer. But the Merwick staff also needs the year-round support of regular volunteers for its many patient programs. I hope that adults, men and women, from The Medical Center's many communities will follow the Celeste Mattino, Barbara example of the Junior Miller, Diane Mooney, Liz Noyes, Lindsay Osborne, Nancy Paine, Susan Paine, Joann Palutis, Lisa Partridge, Pam Piper, Rachelle Reed,

Eileen Robertiello, Ellie Rose, Amy Shillabert, Caroline
Smith, Tatiana Spies, Laura Spence, Gail Struensee, Molly Sword, Laura Tate, Martha Tattersall, Megan Valentine, Barbara Warren, Peter Wilson, Livia Wong, and Karen Yates.

Serving as Junior Volunteers are Jacky Alford,
Marcia Blair, Barbara Blair,
Lisa Brown, Cathy Burrough,
Ruth Campbell, Libby
Carothers, Cathy Cifelli,
Miriam Craig, Kim Cromwell,
Susan Danek, Deanne

The Princeton Junior Women's Club invites its friends and members to a summer luncheon on Wednesday, August 20. Anyone interested in joining a group of young active women helping the Princeton area may call Mrs. Bonnie Carroll at 799-3096.

The newly-formed South Jersey Branch of the National League of American Pen-women is planning its next meeting September 18, at the Present Day Club on Stockton Street. Artists, professional writers and lecturers will meet to hear Mrs. Jeanne Byrne of the national organization who will present a gavel to the branch.

The South Jersey Branch, just one year old, invites professional artists and writers to become members. The national organization was formed specifically for women to meet and work with colleagues in each of the arts. Interested parties should call Renee C. Martin, vice president of the South Jersey Branch at 448-5360.

The YMCA Summer Programs for Seniors will conclude with the luncheon Thursday and a boardwalk trip to Asbury Park Tuesday. The Thursday luncheon, from noon until 2, will include movies and bingo with numerous prizes.

The day on the boardwalk at Asbury Park will end with dinner at the Homestead Restaurant. Mrs. Jenny Jackson, trip leader, can be reached at 924-4787 for details.

The Princeton Stroke Club will meet at 11 Wednesday, September 3, at Merwick to hear Joyce Greenberg read and discuss her poetry. Mrs. Greenberg, who lives with her husband and three children at 33 Beech Hill Circle, is completing her final year as an English major at Douglass College as a continuing education student who last attended classes 17 years ago.

She was the 1975 winner of the Edna N. Herzberg Prize at Douglass for a group of three poems and received honorable mention in the Academy of American Poets contest at Rutgers University. Her work has appeared in the U.S.I. worksheets put out by the Princeton Poets' Cooperative and available at the Princeton Book Mart. She has conducted writing workshops for children and has been published in several poetry journals.

The West Windsor Lions Club has announced officers for the 1975-1976 season: president, Bernt Midland; first vice-president, Larry Tadross; second vice-president, Curt Spalding; second vice-president, Stan Perrine; secretary, Al Carson; treasurer, Elmer Fry; tail twister, Howard Eldridge; and lion tamer, Earl McKnight. Five directors elected include Shep Bell, Bob Daunais, John DiPolvere, Russ Snedeker and the immediate past president, Bob Malcolm.

Requests for civic projects may be sent through any of the officers or directors, preferably in writing. Although major Lions projects are usually slanted towards youth or the blind, any worthwhile civic project will be considered. The Lions will be holding two annual fund-raising projects shortly, the fall fertilizer sale and the auction.

DAY CARE PLANNED

For the Elderly. The Council of Community Services in cooperation with interested community agencies and individuals is exploring the possibility of establishing a day care center for older adults who are not able to be left alone during the day.

The center would offer these adults companionship and supervised care, and encourage them to make use of their skills in a friendly environment. It would serve individuals from Princeton and Township, Rocky Hill, West Windsor, Montgomery, Kingston, Griggstown, Cranbury, Plainsboro, East Windsor, Hightstown, and parts of Hopewell, Lawrence and South Brunswick townships.

The Council hopes that the provision of such a center in the community will enable a person to remain longer in his own home and thus prevent early or unnecessary entry into a nursing home or intermediate care facility.

Families or individuals who need such a service are requested to call the Council of Community Services, 924-5865 between 9 and 1 weekdays, or to write to the Council, Box 201, Princeton. Give name and telephone number or address. A member of the committee for a Senior Day Care Center will then provide further information.

DEADLINE SEPT. 1
For Senior Citizen Bus Cards. The Department of Transportation's new system of controls to improve monitoring of the Senior Citizens Reduced-Fare Bus Program will require all participating senior citizens to have a new green-colored identification card by September 1. The card will have an expiration date of December, 1976.

The September 1 date represents a one-month extension from the original deadline of August 1. It was provided to assure that all senior citizens in the program would have ample time to receive their new identification cards.

New Jersey residents 62 years of age or older may join the $3.8 million program at participating banks, savings and loan associations and county Offices on Aging throughout the State. Those already in the reduced-fare program may obtain additional bus tickets as needed at the same location.

Cure for Excess Dollars.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

As a means of reducing waste in local public schools I urge the School Board to:

1. Eliminate the positions of Director of Staff Development and Director of Student Services. Whatever useful functions these two costly positions perform could readily be taken over by existing building principals and existing guidance personnel, respectively.

2. Eliminate the position of Director of Personnel. The duties of this highly-paid position could easily be handled by an intelligent secretary in co-operations with the building principals.

3. Eliminate the over-paid position of Secretary to the Board and incorporate his duties with those of Business Manager.

4. Eliminate the position of Assistant Superintendent. We believe we are ill served by our present Superintendent; why do we need an assistant to carry out his wishes?

5. Eliminate at least two of the four positions of Assistant Principal at the high school.

6. Eliminate paid sabbatical leaves, except in those rare instances where the employee needs some free time to complete a thesis for an HONEST doctorate, not for some flim-flam in the miasma called "the field of Education."

7. Cut paid sick leave and paid personal leave by one-half, except in those rare instances where the employee is hospitalized or is certified by a reputable physician as being unable to work.

8. Eliminate free tuition for employees who live out-of-town and who want their children to attend local public schools. (Princeton residents who do not wish to send their children to local public schools are forced to send them to private schools.)

DOROTHY H. OPPENHEIM
Princeton-Kingston Road

A Different Viewpoint.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

In this Bicentennial Year, as we congratulate the founders of this great nation for their sagacity in formulating our cherished Bill of Rights, we must not forget one right, inherent in that document, namely the right to write letters to the Editor. So, quill in hand, I am exercising that citizen's right.

In these times it is not hard to understand the concern with salaries of school administrators and the effect upon Princeton taxpayers. I have a different viewpoint. Perhaps this is because I am more concerned with my expenses other than taxes. I have found the inflationary rip-offs much more devastating, whether in utilities, food, steel, auto or fuel.

Also, to be fair, I compare the payments to educators with the earnings of doctors, dentists, lawyers, veterinarians, chiropodists, optometrists, architects and even some pharmacists. Their earnings affect my standard of living perhaps more than the salaries of administrators in the school system, whose level of earnings would be unacceptable to most of the professionals I just named.

My endorsement of educator salaries is strengthened every time I get a stockholders' report. I see payments in six figures regularly for salaries, plus bonuses that triple the wages of administrators.

I cannot believe that the training and experience of any of the above is so much superior to that of our school administrators. In most cases the future of our children and of Princeton is determined more by our educators than by anyone else, besides the family.

Perhaps there is only one alternative to the additional costs of clerks and secretaries in school offices, as well as for the month or so of vacation time of our school leaders. The answer might be an EES instead of a YES.

A retraining program could be set up to teach our educators the techniques of typing, filing and shorthand. Part-time employment, preferably in the healthy outdoors, could be arranged. Mowing lawns and trimming hedges could serve as a great budget booster, and, at the same time, eliminate the need for jogging.

If I were an administrator in the Princeton school system, who had to earn the highest credentials necessary for the position; and counted the years of service put in; considered the many problems I was expected to solve; absorbed the intensity and amount of criticism, just and unjust, never leveled at the other professionals; I would feel greatly underpaid.

"Room for Improvement."

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Re: Mr. Bevin Smith's criticism of WWHW, (Town Topics, July 31.)

One wonders if the only way to awake the Princeton radio station to local issues like Public Education, Housing, floods and the like, is to "call in the news and receive $5" for notifying them of the event.

Would that Mr. Herbert Hobler had the courage to ask the people what kind of radio station they'd really like: ask if they are interested in hearing candidates for local offices, debates, airing of all sides of issues, intelligent investigative reporting, substantive interviews with office holders and personages of controversy, etc.

Don't be on the defensive, Mr. Hobler, there's always room for improvement.

I can't fathom your thoughts. All I know is that for weeks now my son could not afford to buy that bicycle and so he decided to sell all the old bicycles outgrown by older brothers and sisters and he saved some money and added to it piecemeal. He advertised bikes for sale in TOWN TOPICS and made six separate deals with individuals in order to effect sales. His sense of responsibility to those who purchased his bikes was very evident.

And then on Saturday, August 9, he finally had scraped enough together and was able to buy his new green Motobecane Mirage.

That bicycle was stolen two days later by you. Had you earned it? Had you worked hard to earn it? What were you thinking? What are your thoughts now?

Irresponsible Government.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am very much appalled at the irresponsible way Princeton Borough Council, Princeton Township Committee and the Joint Transportation Committee are dealing with the desperate transportation situation and parking problems in Princeton. We need some practical thinking from you.

Not feeling at all guilty throwing away our tax dollars on the loop bus (serving a handful of people no matter what the township records show) and next wanting to subsidize taxi owners to carry senior citizens and finding

Princeton Women Plan Program to Remember Women Who Helped with American Revolution

The Central New Jersey Chapter of NOW (National Organization for Women) will present a bicentennial program, "Forgotten Women of the Revolution" on the Palmer Square Lawn in front of the Nassau Inn, on Tuesday, August 26, at 5.

Betty Fenton, Director of the production, reports that its object is to complete the story of the American war for independence by including the many women who made significant contributions to its success. Betsy Ross who is remembered in little more than a "walk on" role of flag designer, overshadowed by the illustrious names of Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, etc., was actually an independent business woman who expanded her upholstery business into the newly-lucrative field of flag-making. Many other women who made significant contributions are just beginning to surface through contemporary research, and to be added to the honor rolls of the Revolutionary era.

The program will cover the economic life of women of that time, noting the contributions of such women as Ann Timothy, publisher; Elizabeth Perkins, shop keeper; Patience Wright, sculptor; Clementina Rind, editor; Jane Aitken, printer and book binder; Hannah Adams, them not even interested in bidding, (except one owner who cites too much bookkeeping) and all the time Telebus would have, as we did before when in service, run the system at no expense to the taxpayers and enjoy doing it, if it were allowed to be run as a business.

NANCE-ELLEN DRAPER
41 Jefferson Road

Editor's Note: Nance-ellen Draper and her husband, Paul, operated a dial-a-ride Telebus service for a time last year; however, regulations regarding hours of operation, days of operation and fares, plus legal snarls and a suit brought by taxi owners, compelled the Drapers to give up the service.

Tennis Highly Successful.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

We would like to extend our warmest thanks to all those whose efforts combined to make the recent Princeton Boys' and Girls' Open Tennis Tournaments the splendid successes that they were. In the course of these two major USTA-sanctioned tournaments, Princeton was host to more than 400 youngsters and their parents.

Our thanks go to the organizations which made available the courts and facilities for the tournaments, and to the chairmen and members of the committees that took charge of transportation and hospitality arrangements. Most of all, our thanks go to the parents and townspeople who opened up their homes to host out-of-town competitors, and who were wonderfully patient in sharing the courts.

Without the hard work of all the people involved in the tournaments or the support of the Princeton community, these events would never have run as smoothly as they did. We are grateful to all of you. It is clear that the Princeton Open Tennis Tournaments were community efforts and community successes.

writer; Deborah Logen, historian; Sylbilla Masters, inventor; and Ann Merry, actress.

Another segment will be concerned with the women who made direct contributions to the war effort, including Deborah Sampson, Margaret Corbin, and Molly Pitcher, soldiers; Sarah Back and Esther Reed, who provided relief work and money; Hannah Israel who prevented the British from taking her cattle; and Lydia Darrah, Jane Thomas and Sibell Ludington, who were spies and informers for the colonists.

The ground work of political thought and philosophy without which the revolution could not have been initiated also had its feminine contributors, and the final part of the program will cover the participation of such writers, philosophers and feminists as Marcy Otis Warren, Phyllis Wheatley, Judith Murray, Hannah Mather and one very important First Lady, Abigail Adams.

Included in the cast of the production will be Rebecca Ashe, Michael McGrath, Terry Buonanno, Rosemarie Arcieri, Phyllis Alroy and Peg Beach. Kera Herzog and Carolyn Landis are co-coordinators of the event. The public is invited and there will be no admission fee.

A CHANCE TO PUBLISH

In New Magazine. The first issue of "Helikon Harvest," a creative writing magazine published by youngsters, is available now, free, at the Princeton Public Library or by subscription through Helikon, the sponsoring, after-school writing activity. Edited by Emily Reeves, Cara Windblom, Trisha Crowley, Leira Kahn and Fiona Winsman, the magazine was started so that young writers in the area would have a place to share their work. Poems, stories, cartoons, drawings and riddles by children from Princeton, West Windsor and Montgomery are included.

The magazine is the sister publication of "Helikon Corner," the community newspaper for children, written and edited by children in Helikon's journalism class and issued six times a year. The idea behind both publications is that publishing is half the fun of writing and that amateur writers of all ages should have the same chance to share their work as do amateur musicians and artists.

The next issue of "Helikon Harvest" will be published in the fall, so writers age 16 and under who would like to see their work in print may contact Mimi Schwartz or Kathy Kenfield at Helikon, 36 Pine Street. Former teachers at Stuart School, they are the founders of Helikon, which meets in the Unitarian church.

TWO SETS TWINS BORN

At Princeton Medical Center. In the week ending August 10, 23 children were born in the Medical Center at Princeton, including two sets of twins. A boy and a girl were born to Mr. and Mrs. James Pickens, 73 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, on August 6, while on August 8, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Saltiel, 666 Paxton Avenue, Trenton, became the parents of twin daughters.

Sons were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Amatucci, 180 Dorchester Drive, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. David A. Frothingham, 24 West Delaware Avenue, Pennington, both on August 3; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eckert, 16 Longfield Road, New Brunswick; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graziani, 53 Chipper Drive, Kendall Park, both on August 5; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Carlisi, Wynbrook Apartments, Hightstown, August 6; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Behm, 38 Farms Road, Freehold; and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Magner, 17 Ward Street, Pennington, both on August 7.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. John Milonski, 27 Heathwood Drive, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. John McCarroll, 74 Allentown Road, Robbinsville; Mr. and Mrs. Kevin McAdam, Knickerbocker Drive, Belle Mead; Dr. and Mrs. Yhia Elaini, 161 Franklin Corner Road, Lawrenceville, all on August 8; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilder, 640 Twin Rivers Drive North, East Windsor, August 9.

Daughters were also born to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Fordham, 92 Jurocko Avenue, Somerset; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Herr, 6 Station Road, Cranbury, both on August 5; Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks, Princeton Road, Plainsboro, August 6; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jasinski, 26 Kino Boulevard, Mercerville; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wechadtowski, 734 Twin Rivers Drive, East Windsor, both on August 7; Mr. and Mrs. Bernd Hasenkamp, 21 Galston Drive, Trenton, August 8; and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boone III, 255 University Avenue, August 9.

ADMINISTRATORS NAMED
In Windsor School System. The West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional Board of Education has appointed two new administrators, an assistant superintendent and an assistant principal. Miss Isabella S. Marcotrigiano was named to the newly-created position of assistant superintendent of schools, effective August 1, while Gerard A. Schaller will become assistant principal of the Maurice Hawk School.

Miss Marcotrigiano received her bachelor's degree in political science from Rutgers University and a master's degree in administration and supervision from Kean College. She taught elementary grades in Newark for two years, followed by another two years' teaching grades 6, 7 and 8 in Monroe Township.

She then became a member of the Calkrk school system, where she served as teacher and vice-principal intern for 13 years, when she joined the Plainsfield school system as an assistant principal and later principal.

Mr. Schaller has been a member of the Mercer County Superintendent of Schools' office for the last three years. He is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky University and received a master's degree from Ball State University, Indiana. Prior to joining the county superintendent's staff, Mr. Schaller taught in Fayette County and in Ewing Township.

Heart disease is not a single disease. Many diseases involve the heart and blood vessels directly, while others exert a secondary effect on these organs. Different types of heart disease are more prevalent or more likely to cause difficulty at different ages, the experts say. During infancy congenital defects are often present, for example. Your heart is an important organ and deserves the best care, including following your physician's directions as to diet, exercise and smoking.

A great selection of vitamins by the leading makers are available at FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon. We feature a complete line of sick room supplies, for sale or rent, including wheel chairs, walkers, canes, crutches and portable commodes. Free prescription pick up and delivery service. Presenting the most popular bank services in a package

Apply now... Take the "three way" or the "free way"

We've put the most popular bank services into one package. It's called the Full Circle Account, and there are two ways you can get it.

The "three way"

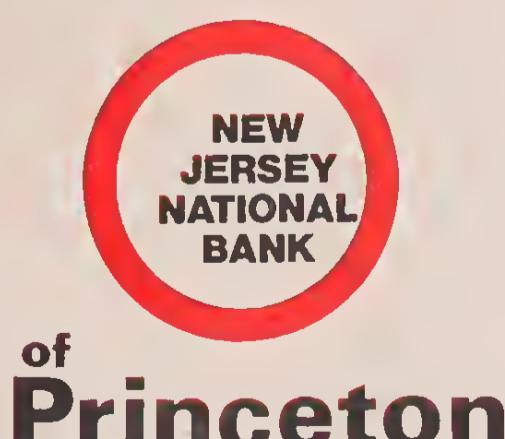

The complete package is yours for a small monthly fee of $3. That's the average cost of a checking account alone, yet it pays for checking and a lot more with Full Circle Account. But there's a better way . . .

The "free way"

You can also have a Full Circle Account at no cost whatsoever if you maintain a balance of $300 or more in your regular savings account. Not only will you be getting a super value for free, but your savings will earn 5% interest compounded daily.

The Full Circle Account package:

- Free unlimited checking
Write as many checks as you like. No minimum balance required and no monthly maintenance fee.
- Full Circle I.D. & Check Cashing Card
Your Full Circle Account Card makes all Full Circle services readily available to you. It also guarantees that your personal check and/or paycheck will be cashed without delay or additional identification.
- Free personalized checks
Serially numbered checks personalized with your name and address are supplied at no cost.
- Bounce-free checking
If you write a check for more than your balance, we'll cover it up to your pre-arranged limit. (Normal finance charges apply.)
- 5% Regular Savings
All Full Circle Account customers will enjoy the maximum interest on savings compounded daily.
- Discounts on loans
You're entitled to a discount on most personal installment loans.
- Free money orders, cashier checks and certified checks
There's no charge when you need a money order or an official check.
- Free travelers' checks
Forget about the fee . . . they're free!
- BankAmericard
Full Circle Account customers receive their own BankAmericard, the most popular charge card in the world. (Normal finance charges apply.)
- Automatic transfer from checking to saving
Tell us how much you want to save monthly, and we'll automatically transfer that amount from your checking into your savings account.
- Free bank-by-mail
Save on gas and bank-by-mail. We'll supply free postage both ways.

Ever wonder which college sends the most players into pro football?... National Football League rosters this year show that there are now more players from the University of Southern California than from any other college... Penn State ranks second, and Ohio State third.

Here's an oddity... One of the greatest tennis players of all-time, Bill Tilden, who was the top player in the world in the 1920s, was unable to make his college tennis team!... Tilden went to the University of Pennsylvania and failed to make the tennis team there... But a few years later, he won every major tennis tournament in the world.

Did you know that the only reason golf courses have sand traps is because the oldest golf courses in the world in Scotland are situated by the sea, and sandy spots are on the courses by nature... So when other courses were built everywhere else, sand traps were added to make the courses like the original ones in Scotland.

With 30,000 Tickets for Giants-Steelers Game Still Unsold, Future of Annual Jaycee Classic in Stadium Is on the Line

The annual Jaycee Classic football game, once a major event on the New Jersey sports scene, may now be headed toward extinction.

The problem, naturally, is financial. The annual professional exhibition game, which has raised more than $2 million for New Jersey charities, failed to break even last year, as only 25,313 fans paid to see the Giants and Eagles at Palmer Stadium.

This year the New Jersey Jaycees took dramatic action to reverse the downward trend. The Eagles, who had provided the opposition for the Giants in all 13 previous games, were dropped in favor of the Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers. The Jaycees, who in years past were occasionally somewhat less than efficient in their ticket selling and promotional efforts, made a visible effort to tighten up their organization. The ticket selling campaign was launched with an elaborate luncheon press conference at Jadwin Gymnasium, with placekickers Roy Gerela and Pete Gogolak in attendance.

Hopes were high -- something ticket sales have not been thus far. John Baker, press chairman for the event, said that only 16,000 tickets had been sold as of last week. "The amount of mail we got this weekend was very encouraging," he added. "If we can sell all the sideline tickets, we may at least be able to see some blue sky through the clouds." The game is scheduled for Palmer Stadium on Saturday, August 30.

Clouds have been darkened, however, by several factors that have compounded the Jaycees' troubles. The first can be traced directly back to the NFL players' strike that in large part ruined the financial outcome of last year's game.

Higher Costs. One of the demands of that strike was that players receive more reimbursement for exhibition games. This year the Jaycees are paying the price: The amount of money that goes to each team has been increased by a whopping 67 percent. "A lot of people are surprised to learn that we pay the teams in the first place," said Baker. "They think that the teams play for free."

Other costs, luckily, have remained constant. "Princeton University has been as good as gold to us," said Baker.

Because of the increased amount paid to the players, and because of the added lustre of the Super Bowl champions in this year's game, the Jaycees decided -- after three agonizing meetings -- to raise the price of sideline seats from $9 to $12. End zone seats remain $6.

"We thought many people

"Super Saturday"

Tickets for "Super Saturday," as the New Jersey Jaycees are billing the exhibition football game between the Giants and the Steelers on August 30, can be ordered by telephone or mail, or can be purchased in person from the Jaycee headquarters in Hightstown, Ticketron outlets, or Getty service stations.

In Princeton, tickets may be purchased from John Baker, 921-6100 or 799-1865, or from other Jaycees. In Hightstown, orders can be placed with Lynn Curry, 448-7819, day or night. Call collect if desired. Carduner's Liquor Store, routes 571 and 130 Hightstown, also has tickets available.

would want to see the Steelers at any price," said Baker, who added that the $12 figure also seemed in line with the Giants' regular season ticket price of $15. However, Baker conceded, "the $12 price is discouraging some people."

Organizational Problems. Also, the game sponsors must still contend with the organizational difficulties inherent in a far-flung group such as the Jaycees. Baker said that last year's staff was plagued by difficulties, primarily because the nucleus had little support from the rest of the Jaycee membership.

This year's committee has been increased in size, but problems remain with the output of some individual chapters. The Princeton chapter, for example, has already sold more than 300 tickets, a remarkable number, said Baker, for a group that only has about 25 members. But some chapters of much larger membership have had extremely disapp-

"I think people are beginning to realize that this is going to be an excellent game," said Baker with characteristic Jaycee optimism. "Now we're all on tenterhooks hoping that it's not too late."

SPORTS In Princeton

IVY NEAR PERFECT

In Adult Softball, Ivy Inn defeated Kingston Wine and Liquor, 10-6, last week to complete a near-perfect season in the Princeton Recreation Department's Adult Softball League. Ivy's season record was 20-1, its only loss coming at the hands of Conte's on June 18, by a 4-1 score.

Ivy also captured first place in the Hamilton Tournament last May and took second place in the Princeton Tournament held later that month.

pointing sales.

Baker said he had received calls from several chapters in North Jersey, still referring to tickets for the Eagles game. "There's no excuse for that," said Baker.

Finally, with the amount of sports activities on all levels reaching the saturation point, and with more football exhibition games being shown on home television than ever before, media interest in the Giants-Steelers game has taken a dive.

Media No-Shows. Baker sent out about 700 invitations for the press luncheon at Jadwin and anticipated that 200 would attend. Only 25 newsmen actually showed up. "That really hurt," he said.

Of course, what will ultimately sell most tickets is the promise of an exciting football game. This year's game, for all of its financial uncertainties, nevertheless brings higher expectations than most past contests. The Steelers, world champions, have already proved themselves human in last weekend's loss to the Eagles, 17-14. The Steelers are not likely to be caught off guard again.

The Giants, hoping to jell under the new regime of Coach Bill Arnsperger and recently-acquired quarterback Craig Morton, have begun their pre-season campaign with a surprisingly strong performance against New England, winning, 28-14. The Giants also employ one of Princeton University's two alumni now active in the NFL, reserve guard and center Karl Chandler. The other is Carl Barasich, a defensive tackle with the Cleveland Browns.

"I think people are beginning to realize that this is going to be an excellent game," said Baker with characteristic Jaycee optimism. "Now we're all on tenterhooks hoping that it's not too late."

Bill McQuade slapped out three hits to pace Ivy's attack as the Green tuned up for playoff action beginning this week. Pat Kahny had three hits for Kingston.

Other playoff qualifiers are Center Sports, Conte's and Kingston Wine and Liquor, which knocked off Andy's, 10-4, to clinch its fourth place position. Mike Boccanfuso hit safely three times to pace Kingston, while Doug Watson had three hits for Andy's.

Andy's earlier had lost to Center Sports, 6-4. Jamie Petrone homered for the winners and John Barone had three hits.

In other action Conte's routed Plainsboro Package Store, 24-3. Tony Cammarato went 5-for-5 at the plate and Luciano Rossi and Charley Perpetua both homered for Conte's.

NET LEADERS LISTED

In West Windsor, The West Windsor Recreation Commission has announced its leading teams in the evening doubles leagues at the end of the fifth week in the seven-week summer league. Leading the women's league is the team of Noreen Fallon, Gil Giudice and Carol Keyes. Five teams are tied for second place: Lorraine Anderson, Gail Peck and Sue Switzer; Derreth Kavanagh, Pat Fallon and Alice Payne; Lillian Black, Jean Cassen and Ida Lee; Dixie Curyice, Ruth Kehoe and Sharon Midland; and Pat Atkinson, Peg Miller and Mary Skinkle.

Tom Fagan, Gordon Hansen and Warren Kelemen lead the men's early league followed by Lew Coleman, Bernt Midland and Bob Nielsen; Tom Boyer, Brion Midland and San Shuren; and Bryce Chase, Olof Hogrelius and Dave Singer.

The men's late doubles league has five teams fighting for the four playoff spots with only 2 points separating the five teams. Leading the league are Don Haws, Colson Hillier and Stan Tantum. In second place Ray Giudice, Mike Herlihy and Tom O'Kane; and Marty Birnbaum, Walt Curtice and Jim

First National Bank romped over RCA(B), 20-3, on outstanding hitting as all but three of First National's 12 players batted .500 or better. Dave Tessein's 4 for 5 with a triple and two RBI's was the best effort of the evening, followed by Tom Ryan's grand slam homer.

Jim Brooks, Tim Kearns and coach Jeff Maiden with his first hit of the year all contributed home runs to winning pitcher Malcolm Rogers' effort. John Dunlap hit a four-bagger for RCA(B). Cities Service Research

10 SWIMMERS QUALIFY
For Junior Olympics. Princeton Aquatic Association, an AAU affiliate swim group, is sending 10 swimmers to the Junior Olympic finals this Saturday at Lake Mohawk and Sunday at Livingston. Throughout the summer the New Jersey AAU has held six qualifying meets, the top six swimmers going on to compete in the finals.

Those in the 10 and under age group who qualified are Jim Scibetta in the 50, 100, and 200 meter freestyle; John Healy in both the 50 breaststroke and the 200 individual medley; Ann Wawczak in the 200 individual medley and the 100 freestyle; David Hovsepian in the 200 individual medley and his twin brother, Robbie, in the 50 breaststroke.

In the 11-12 age group Sue Danielson will be swimming the 50 backstroke. Meredith Van Pelt, 13-14 age group, is entered in the 100 backstroke.

Among the 15-18 age group, Kathee Wadsworth will be swimming the 200 breaststroke; and both Ellen Wawczak and Guy Dorgan qualified in the 400 freestyle. In addition Ann Wawczak, David Hovsepian, Sue Danielson, and Guy Dorgan are listed as alternates for other events.

JUNIOR OLYMPIANS: Ten swimmers from the Princeton Aquatic Association have qualified for the Junior Olympic finals to be held this weekend. They include, in the top row from the left, Kathee Wadsworth, Sue Danielson, Guy Dorgan, Ellen Healy, Robbie and David Hovsepian. Jim Scibetta, missing from this photograph, also qualified.

Princeton Aquatic Association is a year round program for interested swimmers of all levels, directed by Princeton University coaches Bill Farley and Dave Garretson.

BASKETBALL CAMP SET

At Mercer County College. Basketball skills for boys and girls age 10 to 18 will be taught in a late summer basketball camp August 29 and 30 in the Mercer County Community College gymnasium at the West Windsor campus.

Basic fundamentals covered will include dribbling, shooting, passing and defense as well as rules and regulations, strategy, screens and setting picks, and 26 defensive moves.

Head MCCC basketball coach Howie Landa and assistant coaches Bob Pugh and Bill Panella will direct the camp. Equipment needed consists of sneakers, shorts, swim trunks, towel and a lock. The College pool will be open to the campers after each day's sessions.

The camp will run from 9 to 3:30 each day. Participants must provide their own lunches which they can bring with them or purchase at the college.

The cost is $10 per day or $15 for the two days. Further information may be obtained by calling (609) 586-4800, extension 451.

CLASSES EXTENDED
To August 22. The Princeton Community Tennis Program has concluded its summer session, but a complete program of instruction will be available through most of August.

To accommodate players who have been unable to attend all seven weeks of classes, or for those who want more tennis, the present schedule of daytime and evening lessons for adults and children will continue through August 22.

Interested players may sign up for August lessons by visiting or calling the Tennis Office at 71 University Place (924-4343) 9 to 5 weekdays. Adult classes meet twice a week, children's classes three times a week.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to parts of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15 cents.

NEW RIVERSIDE LISTING! Four bedrooms (one on first floor), three baths; separate dining room; family room; eat-in kitchen, central air; old trees. $94,000

PLEASANT PRICES FOR PINCHED PURSES!

"ARCHITECTURE IS FROZEN MUSIC"

Nature created the setting; architect and owners, the house, and together they composed an impressive symphony! Set on a stunning four acre hillside and set off by its many rugged boulders and towering trees, the house was designed to flow with the land. Large areas of bronze tinted glass take advantage of breathtaking outlooks to south and west; small intimate balconies and protective "play decks" bring inside and outside together. Views are everywhere.

The house is spacious—with a living room whose ceiling soars almost three stories high, and six or seven bedrooms situated for the ultimate in privacy for parents and guests—yet intimate and warm in its use of materials, color and scale. Throughout the house, from superb kitchen, tasteful baths, dressing rooms, numerous closets, two zone air conditioning to the smallest detail, only the best has been used. This is a home to enthrall all admirers of fine contemporary design. $265,000

WILTON STREET

A small but comfortable house on a quiet side street not far from center town on a screen-fenced, well-planted lot makes a happy housing combine for one, two, or three. Entrance hall, living room with corner fireplace, bookshelves, dining end and door to the raised patio, workable kitchen; 3 good bedrooms; 1½ baths, work and storage rooms; attached garage; some nice interior detail, and a bit of face-lifting could make the house quite a doll! $59,500

CEDAR LANE

Available by opening day of school, within easy walk of Riverside School, close to NYC busline—these practical assets of this compact Cape Cod add to its appealing charm. Entry, living room with bay window; dining room; study; kitchen with eating space; 3 bedrooms; 1½ baths; big screened porch; delightful secluded grounds with pool—a cute, cozy and convenient house, reduced to as rare as a day in June, this handsome, perfectly maintained home is set on an attractive corner lot in a fine residential area of Pennington. The welcoming entry hall leads to a spacious L-shaped living room with stone fireplace. Down a few steps from the excellent kitchen is a formal dining room that can double as conference room for a home oriented profession. A recreation room, study or fourth bedroom plus roughed in bath, laundry and utility room complete this lower level.

$68,000

Quality is evident throughout from the full basement with steel beam construction, fine masonry work, and the generous size of the three bedrooms and two tiled baths.

A small terrace to one side of the house, a covered slate patio at the back (great for rainy day barbecues) a lot bordered by pines for complete privacy, and a double attached garage. That's the story of this fine listing which we are proud to present at

$88,500

LEIGH AVENUE

A four bedroom house plus good condition plus a convenient Township location plus a price in the low fifties adds up to quite a find! In addition, this pretty brick and frame Colonial has nice exterior details; large living room with paneled fireplace wall, good separate dining room, kitchen large enough to eat in, 1½ baths, full basement and a secluded rear yard with patio. The Williamsburg Cookbook (published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc.) contains traditional and contemporary recipes compiled by the staff of Colonial Williamsburg. Some are those actually eaten by Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, Peyton Randolph and George Wythe when Williamsburg was the capitol.

Scuppernong cocktail, Sally Lunn, game pie, corn chowder, peanut soup, creamed salsify, and salmagundi make for a first-class meal in 1975 as well!

For dessert: Mrs. Randolph's frozen lemonade? Or, English trifle? Or wine jelly mold with custard?

Today authentic early American meals are served in Colonial Williamsburg (and reservations should be made ahead).

Low cost burglar and fire alarm protection

An all-new approach to home security. That is FLASHGUARD. It protects just as the most popular wired security systems do. It guards every window or door that an intruder might use to get into your home. Round the clock protection. No-compromise protection.

What's the difference between FLASHGUARD and the wired security system? Cost! You'll save 60% to 75% when you buy FLASHGUARD. And FLASHGUARD protection is just as good—and in some ways better. And with FLASHGUARD you can also add fire alarm protection if you wish.

Interested? Write or call us for the details and a no-obligation estimate.

Recently PSE&G Co. disconnected utilities in the house you rent from me. Because of the way you've acted and spoken to me, it has occurred to me that you would like people to believe I am responsible for this happening and that you are innocently surprised by the whole thing.

That is not the way I see it so I'm addressing an open letter to you in hopes it will be read by all of those "a lot of people" you tell me you've spoken with about this matter. Obviously, I hope to be relieved of some of the "bad guy" image you're throwing my way. Very occasionally I don't mind being considered the "bad guy" but this is not one of those times.

In March I told you I had an overdue bill with PSE&G Co. and wanted the utilities to remain in my name because I could not afford to pay the account in full. I told you I'd send you money each month to include with your payment and that if these payments were made regularly there should be no problems with service being discontinued. I also said I'd pay utilities until the April meter reading so there would be no question about you paying for utilities you did not use. You understood all this didn't you? At least you said OK to it and didn't ask any questions.

You moved in April 1. Your first bill was for the period between Apr. 21 and May 20. I picked it up June 1 and sent you $50, a stamped envelope addressed to PSE&G Co. and a statement of your amount owing. You mailed my $50 but made no payment of your own so that instead of receiving $105 for the Apr.-May bill they only received $50.

The next billing was for May 20-June 19. You were right when you said you'd never received the money, statement, envelope, etc. for this billing period. I found them with my other desk things... so I am at fault here. But why didn't you tell me you did not receive your bill or the money I was to pay? You knew it was important the bill be paid... and you knew you hadn't made your last month's payment so it was particularly important this one get in.

The next billing period was June 19-July 21 and service was disconnected sometime after July 25.

Of course I'm responsible for PSE&G paying particular attention to this account because I had accumulated the original overdue amount but you knew the entire situation. You knew the account must be paid when presented and you knew why.

My conclusions are:
1. We are both responsible for utilities being disconnected.
2. There is no way you can seriously consider yourself innocently surprised by this or unfairly abused by me.

Too Good to Keep Under Cover

Some houses have elegance written all over them. Sometimes it's the proportions, sometimes it's the setting, and sometimes it's the precise detail of the style. In this case it's all three. Inside, the great front to back living room, elegant formal dining room, and rustic family room or library with raised hearth are set in a highly workable arrangement of formal and casual living areas. Upstairs, there is an airy master bedroom suite with private bath as well as three other comfortable bedrooms. A wonderful house for a dinner party in a location near the country club that's hard to beat.

North of Princeton on a Quiet Cul de Sac

This exceptional center hall colonial offers space and privacy for every member of the family as well as fresh air and lots of country sunshine in nearby Montgomery. The living room has both a bow window and a picture window, and leads to a dining room with a chair rail, and a spacious kitchen with a neat separate eating area. Just a few steps away is a rustic panelled family room with a raised hearth and built-in cabinets. Upstairs, are five comfortable bedrooms and two full baths. Outside, in the garden is a 20x40 in-ground pool, a big plus for entertaining. Reduced to YARDLEY, PA.: We take pride in offering this exceptionally fine house, built in 1930, set on a beautifully landscaped acre. The stone and stucco colonial house features a gracious entrance hall, large living room with French doors, moldings and a fine fireplace, a large dining room with wainscoting, library, kitchen, screened porch. Up the curved staircase you will find four bedrooms, two enormous, updated baths. The third floor contains another bedroom, walk-in cedar closet and a bathroom. Also, there is a delightful, spacious room with a built-in bar and dance floor which could be used for yoga, exercise class, artist's studio, or for partying. The finished basement is complete with a laundry room, workshop and a large playroom. The very private flagstone terrace looks over a sweep of lawn with many fine specimen of holly trees, azaleas, and rhododendrons. $140,000

ROCKY HILL: Set in the charming village of Rocky Hill is a 5 bedroom centrally air-conditioned house with a front porch. Move in, install an old-fashioned porch swing, and enjoy summertime. There is an above ground pool, where the kids can keep cool and clean all day. $62,700

PRINCETON TWP.: Our newest listing is a solidly constructed one story home, perfect for a small family or retired couple. It has an exceptional lot with privacy and many mature evergreens and plantings on a quiet cul-de-sac, close to Nassau Street. It contains a comfortable living room with fireplace, dining area, kitchen, 2 bedrooms and one bath. There is a large basement, containing the laundry and workshop and an attached one car garage. $69,500

HOPEWELL TWP.: This brand new home, constructed of frame and Bucks County stone, qualifies for the tax rebate of up to $2,000 and will be ready for occupancy soon. A delightful plan and custom details make this home a little different. It has a family room with cathedral ceiling and stone fireplace, a formal living room with fireplace, large dining room, kitchen with eating area and separate laundry-mud room, and study with optional bath. Upstairs are 4 double bedrooms. All this on a high lot in Elm Ridge, overlooking the lake. This house is a good value at $129,500

PRINCETON: An older in-town house with a tiny garden needs the attention of a do-it-yourselfer for the finishing touches. It includes a glassed-in porch, living room, dining room and kitchen on the first floor. Upstairs are 3 1/2 bedrooms and a bath. There is a full basement and a back porch. A good buy at $26,900

FOR RENT: Within walking distance of the University and a block from the N.Y. bus line is a 3 bedroom Colonial, set on a beautifully landscaped lot. September 1 occupancy. $500 per mo.

If you're within 16 miles of Avon Village, wave good-bye to your landlord.

Instead of emptying your pockets every month, fill up your life. At Avon Village, the superb condominium community that's part of extraordinary Twin Rivers. Here you'll enjoy substantial tax deductions as an owner, making your monthly payments no more than you're probably now spending on rent. You'll also benefit from the security of equity build-up . . . knowing your money's going toward your own investment — not your landlord's!

What else does Avon Village offer? The glorious Twin Rivers way of life. Including four swim and tennis clubs, ballfields, shopping center, banks, library, medical and dental offices and two elementary schools — all in a magnificent setting right on the premises. And Avon Village has its own elaborate private clubhouse for entertaining your friends in the grand manner.

It's all included in the low price, along with:

- Professional exterior maintenance service
- Great GE appliance package including refrigerator, oven/range with hood, dishwasher, clothes washer and dryer, stainless steel sink
- Central air conditioning
- Plush wall-to-wall carpeting, choice of colors

INTEREST RATE FOR THE FIRST YEAR

If you purchase now, your interest rate will not exceed an average of 7% for three years!

Our current interest rate commitment is 8 1/4%, but you'll pay only 6 1/2% for the first year. WE'LL PAY THE DIFFERENCE! You'll pay only 7 1/2% the second year and 8 1/2% the third year. WE'LL PAY THE DIFFERENCE! At the end of the 3-year period, if interest rates are lower, you may refinance your mortgage without pre-payment penalty. SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE...

A VERY SPECIAL HOUSE...

A particularly lovely house set high on a generously wooded lot with professional landscaping. This super clean house, 1 yr. old, has a full dry basement, cent. air., stained woodwork and 6-panel doors throughout, a slate floored entrance foyer, large living and dining rooms, a very pretty eat-in kitchen, cheerful family room with a brick fireplace, 1st floor utility area, and powder room. Upstairs is a spacious, bright master suite including full bath, and 3 other generous bedrooms and a lovely hall bath with double sinks. A semi-enclosed back porch overlooks the very private back yard and deep woods.

IN THE BOROUGH...A MOST CONVENIENT "PLACE"! Three-bedroom older stucco home in a quiet neighborhood close to everything. Old solid plaster walls and a fenced yard...perfect for a garden. Rewired and almost new heating system, all copper piping. Solid as a rock, looking much like the tender, loving care it has received.

In the 60's!

FOLLOW THIS SIGN . . . to one of Delaware Township's most outstanding properties. A contemporary with virtually no maintenance . . . yet with the warmth and charm of a mountain hideaway! Lovely seclusion, spectacular scenery, inground pool and terraces, two stone fireplaces, and an interesting traffic pattern. A good barn with six box stalls, plus a tack room and riding ring! All on eight acres.

IN THE WONDERFUL WORLD OFF RAYMOND ROAD, JUST MINUTES FROM PALMER SQUARE, in South Brunswick Township (with the celebrated school system) . . . A LARGE TWO-STORY COLONIAL: foyer, step-down living room, formal dining room, modern eat-in kitchen, family room with brick wall fireplace, utility room, and fifth bedroom or study, powder room. Upstairs features a master bedroom suite with bath, three other bedrooms and full hall bath. Lots of closet space, basement, two-car garage, and many beautiful extras for the lover of outdoor living! All on $\frac{3}{4}$ acre with city water and sewer.

$74,900

TWO SPECIAL NEW LISTINGS PRICED IN THE 60's!

OUTSTANDING VALUE IN NEARBY MONTGOMERY . . . just a tee shot away from Pike Brook Country Club is our lovely listing on an acre with a barn and kennel.
